Some Secrets Divulged Concerning Dry Farming
(W. Richmond in Lethbridge Herald)

After making an extensive study of the methods used by the dry-land farmers all over the northern part of Montana, and the southern part of Alberta, who have been easily successful in growing paying crops of wheat during the last three years, I find that these boiled down extracts, following, are really their secrets of the game. They can be relied upon to produce results that are surprising, anywhere in the northwest. The average farmer in speaking of his particular method of dry-farming, usually fails to mention the little details, that form the real secrets of his success.

Land must be plowed seven inches or more deep, extra early in April or May (not from June to August 15 as is generally practiced), the land to be summer tilled.

A heavy sub-surface packer must be run over the land plowed each day, or a horse drawing one section of a harrow (continued on back page)

Business visitors to Cavendish, last Saturday.

A number from here are preparing for the trip to Buffalo, on Thursday, February 9, where they will take in the show which is to be put on by the Bullen Brothers.

William Farnum plays a detective from Lloyds of London and allows himself to be snatched as a common thief. The first mate orders him to unfurl the sails, and when he is at the top of the mast, having an intense dislike for him, orders a sailor to loosen the yard. The result being that Mr. Farnum, as Jim Landers, flapped about on the yard very much as a loose coat sleeve would flap out of the racing automobile.

For a few minutes everyone held their breath. Then the captain's daughter, who was not in sympathy with the plans of the mate, shouted an order to square the yard, and Farnum climbed down to safety.

Safeguarding the Public Health

In previous articles in this series, reference was made to certain subjects, legislation in regard to and administration of which are subject to dual control by the Dominion Parliament and Provincial Legislatures. Among such subjects, which, however, was not previously enumerated, is Public Health.

The Dominion Parliament, which recently created a Federal Department of Public Health, is responsible for the establishment and enforcement of quarantine to prevent the introduction of disease into Canada from abroad; for the establishment and maintenance of Marine Hospitals; for the medical inspection of immigrants, and, generally, work of an educational character affecting the health and welfare of the Canadian people.

The larger portion of the burden of expense and administration in connection with safeguarding the public health is imposed on the Provinces, which are responsible for the establishment, maintenance, and management of hospitals, asylums, charities, institutions for the deaf and dumb, blind, mentally deficient, and so forth. Under Provincial legislation the direct and active management of many of these institutions is naturally, and properly, placed upon municipal authorities, but the Provincial Government makes large annual contributions towards the cost of their upkeep.

To a much more general extent than ever before, Governments and people the world over have awakened to a realization of the imperative duty devolving upon them to improve the physical standard and general health of the people; also that the safeguarding and improvement of the public health is not a mere local matter, nor even national, but international. A plague or outbreak of disease in any one country may, in these days of rapid transportation and close communication, threaten all other countries. People and Governments have at least come to a realization of the fact that human life is more valuable than the life of domestic livestock; that they have been absurdly inconsistent in the past in expending huge sums to improve the standard of horses, cattle, sheep and swine, and to eradicate disease amongst them, while in many important ways failing to provide for the health and lives of mortals and babies, upon whom depends the whole future of the human race and the citizenship of the world.

Be it said to the everlasting credit of the Western Provinces of Canada that they are well in the lead in the adoption of the most approved laws and methods of sanitation, inspection of food supplies, the provision of grants to needy expectant mothers, in the payment of mothers' pensions, in the establishment of the most modern and best equipped hospitals, asylums and sanatoriums. The scheme of union hospitals for groups of adjacent municipalities is one of the first things yet devised, because through this plan, hospital facilities are being brought within reach of the people living in isolated rural communities. The expense imposed on Provincial and municipal treasuries is heavy; but it is money well spent, and will pay large dividends in better health and a higher physical standard in the years to come, not forgetting the hours of suffering prevented or lessened to the people of today.

While recognizing that the safeguarding and promotion of the public health and the prevention of disease is primarily a duty of Governments, the fact is also recognized that no Governmental body can meet the whole need. Furthermore, a Government can only move along advanced lines as rapidly and to the extent that public opinion will support. Hence there have been brought into being many voluntary organizations to act as assistants to Governments, and to undertake certain duties which can be more efficiently carried out by such organizations than by a Department of Government. There are, for example, the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, the Association of Mental Hygiene, the Babier Welfare organization, the Society for the Prevention of Venereal Diseases, the St. John Ambulance Association, Children's Aid Societies, and the Red Cross with its peace-time programme for "the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

All these organizations are doing their best to carry on their educational propaganda. They employ experts in their various branches. They render invaluable service in many ways and to an extent which the average man and woman little realizes. In addition to being aids to Governments, they are a spur to them, urging them to accept reforms, and educating the people to demand these reforms and to support Governments in carrying them into effect.

Taken all in all, public health matters constitute one of the most important duties of our Provincial Governments in this more enlightened age of today.

Iron Ore in Alberta

Investigations Would Appear to Prove that Iron Deposits Not Exhausted in Any Considerable Quantity. Whether or not Alberta possesses commercial quantities of iron ore will be known in the near future. Investigations have been going on for some time under the supervision of Prof. J. A. Allan, and a report is all ready to be handed down. It is said that this report will state if iron deposits do not exist in any considerable quantity except in one point which lies in the Crow's Nest Pass country.

The deposits at Sheep Creek which were supposed to be important, have proven a failure.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown.

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's welfare call for heavy work, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. It is wonder that the woman at home is often indecisive, through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as a part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and relief at hand. When well, it is the woman's good health, and when ill, it is her duty to make her blood rich to renew her health. This is done by the use of the world's rich blood and plenty of it. This is one way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health. It is that it should be given to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood, and through the use of thousands of well-to-do wives and mothers have been made well. It is a duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine will do for you, it will surely do for you.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Good Market for Canadian Butter

Predicted That Prices Will Continue at a Level That Will Encourage Production.

To forecast prices for the next few years would be dangerous even for a sage, but I venture to assure you that butter prices will continue at a level that will encourage production, said President J. A. McCreery, of the Canadian Creamery Association at the opening of the annual convention at Toronto.

"In Montreal, the great butter centre of Canada, the receipts for the 1930 season has been about 71,000 packages (about 16 carloads) less than last year's. The output of creamery butter in the west for 1929 will about equal that of last year's."

Western Canada And Motion Pictures

More Movies Are Being Produced in the Canadian Rockies.

The ever-increasing popularity of movie pictures has created a strong ground for the production of motion pictures, particularly those based on some of the best known western stories. The growth of the industry and number of big productions that have been filmed or that are going to be filmed for presentation on the screens of the world at the present time.

One of the latest invasions of the film folk is being carried on at Lake Louise in the western Canadian Rockies. A company under the direction of the Goldwyn Corporation of Los Angeles has just taken up its location there for the purpose of filming "Snow Blindness," a story of the northwest that gained some prominence in one of the American short story magazines recently. The company will be in Alberta for two or three weeks, by the end of which time it is expected that the principal scenes will have been shot.

A great attraction the Canadian Rockies hold out to the movie producers is the winter months. The wealth of snow. On the location where the Goldwyn Company is at present working, eighteen inches of snow covers the ground, and a wonderful representation of the great frozen north is obtained. Lake Louise was described by David M. Hartford, a movie magnate who visited Calgary recently, as one of the finest locations for the northern winter picture that he had found anywhere in the North American continent.

If one is troubled with cramps, he will find in Holloway's Camomile an application that will entirely relieve suffering.

Co-operative Wheat Handling.

The farmers in own district and on commission basis the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company handled nearly 40,000 bushels of wheat during the year ending July 31, 1929. The farmers' company built eight new elevators and purchased 200,000 bushels of wheat, a record of 294 during the season. A record was created by the elevator at Foam Lake in handling 265,251 bushels. A total of $22,000 was made out, a cash dividend of 8 per cent. distributed.

Board to Sell 1921 Wheat. The Canadian Council Agriculture has formulated a plan for handling the 1921 wheat crop of Western Canada, through the United Grain Growers. The organization having charge of the selling will be a board of members representing the different provincial grain growers' associations. The farmers are to be asked to pledge themselves to sell their wheat on the board, for a period of five years at least.

A Diminutive Cat.

J. Palmer, a Moosomin fisherman, is the owner of a cat which, for diminutive size, breaks all records. The cat, whose mother is a 1,600 pound, weighed just 10 pounds when two days old, and is said to be about as big as a house cat. This wee being is as smart on its feet as the ordinary cat several times its size.

Trim Riding Habit Of Tan Gabardine

By Gertrude Beresford.

Montreal, Que.—I cannot praise the trim riding habit enough. It is what I have done for me. For three months I have worn the trim riding habit, and I feel better. I was always complaining of my posture, and I have taken my riding habit and made up my mind to wear it. I have taken my riding habit and made up my mind to wear it. I have taken my riding habit and made up my mind to wear it.

Tan gabardine is the material from which this interesting riding habit is originated. The coat is cut in effective style and is quite long. Small straps of the cloth conceal the openings of the pockets. The breeches are made of the same material, and leather that matches the top boots. An Ascot tie of heavy silk forms a pleasing background for a diamond pin. The uniform hat is fashioned from dark brown leather's plush. Of course, should the wearer of this costume prefer it, she might substitute a regulation derby. And a bright-colored vest might be introduced if she should so elect.

Many infants are infested by worms which cause great suffering and are promptly dealt with by using constitutional verminicides difficult to remedy. Miller's Worm Powders will clear the stomach and bowels of worms and will act upon the system so that there will be no recurrence of the trouble. And not only this, but they will repair the injuries to the organs that worms cause and restore them to soundness.

Clydesdale Horses From Scotland

Western Canada's Farmers Putting forth Efforts to Improve Quality of Stock.

The farmers in Western Canada are endeavoring in their efforts to improve the quality of their horses, cattle, sheep and swine, and new blood is constantly being added. One of the best known Clydesdale exhibitors in Western Canada, Ben Finlayson, has just arrived in Brandon, Manitoba, with another consignment of Clydesdale horses from Scotland. Each year it is the custom of Mr. Finlayson to journey to Scotland and pick up the best stock available. He has brought a shipment of twenty-one Clydesdale stallions and one mare from Scotland. The trip was made without any untoward incidents, and the horses being sick on the way over. The horses have been quarantined in Brandon and the next two or three months will be spent in putting them in the best condition, following their trip across the ocean.

Canada Has Attained World's Second Place In Wheat Production

Canada has risen to second place among the wheat growing countries of the world, according to the estimates of the International Institute of Agriculture, and is now surpassed in this regard by the United States alone. The famed slogan "Grainary of the Empire" has come to justify a greater expansion in significance, for the golden fields of the Canadian West are going a long way towards feeding the people of the entire world.

Canadian wheat and wheat flour are now exported to the United Kingdom, United States, Belgium, British West Indies, France, Gibraltar, Italy, Netherlands, Romania, St. Pierre and Miquelon, San Domingo, Sweden, Turkey, Venezuela, Bermuda, British Guiana, South Africa, West Africa, Canary Isles, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Dutch Guiana, Dutch West Indies, Egypt, French West Indies, Haiti, Newfoundland, Norway, Panama and other countries.

The history of the growth of Canadian agriculture and wheat growing seems a marvellous tale of the most rapid progress. In a very short space of time the territory which so many said could grow no wheat has become the second in the world in the quantity produced and the first in quality. Since the Confederation of the Canadian provinces in 1867, at which time the history of Canada as a modern nation may be said to have commenced, wheat has been the staple of Canada's treble, the value of her field crops has multiplied twelve times and that of her annual wheat harvest nearly twenty times, which is illustrative of the healthy state of agriculture and leaves no apprehension of the country's suffering at the expense of the rural sections in the building of urban centres.

The value of all field crops raised in 1930 was $111,136,606, and that of the wheat crop $16,995,265. In 1929 these values were respectively $102,410,000 and $14,600,000. In 1929 the Dominion obtained for the first time in her history a billion dollar crop, more than trebling the value of the crop grown a decade previously.

Agriculture is Canada's first industry and though other branches of national activity are rapidly increasing in importance, the pursuit of farming sustains a healthy and vigorous life that no other industry can furnish. It is the basis of the nation's wealth and the source of the food which sustains the life of the nation.

Of the rich fertile plains of the Canadian West only about one-third is under cultivation in 1930, and roughly 50,000,000 acres of land are waiting for the farmer to bring them into production. The rate of production would give Canada an annual wheat yield of something round 1,000,000,000 bushels, or twice that of the present production of the entire United States.

Canada's rate of production and development is the only determining factor of the time when she will have attained the world's first place as a wheat producer back in quality and quantity.

Queensland, Australia.

Not a Desert

Premier Hughes Resented Article in English Newspaper. Sir's correspondent at Melbourne, Australia, says that Premier Hughes, speaking in the Australian House of Representatives, had recently read an article in an English newspaper describing Queensland and Northwest Australia as a desert. He said the statement was an intentional lie and that he made it knew they were lying. The territory mentioned, declared the premier, was well fitted to carry a large, white population and that the states from these states had rendered splendid service in the war.

Two Men Bachelors

At the Clerk's Corbin's Fair this year, a very unusual thing happened. It was that the fair was the spirit of the fair sex. There was a prize given for dancing. Two bachelors competed and carried away first and second prizes. What do you know about that?—Huntsville Forester.

Japanese Horses Shod With Straw

Shoes Wear Out In Eight Miles of Travel.

Straw is put to strange uses in Japan where horses are shod with it. Even the champion of cart horses wear straw shoes. In their case the shoes are tied round the ankles with straw rope, and are made of the ordinary rice straw, braided so that they form a sole for the foot about half an inch thick. These shoes cost about a halfpenny a pair, and when they are worn out they are thrown away. Every cart has a stock of loose shoes at the house of the driver, and the main part of the horse, or to the front of the cart, and in Japan it was formerly the custom to measure distances largely by the number of horse shoes it took to cover it. So many horse shoes made a day's journey, and the average shoe lasted about eight miles of travel.

X-Rays In Industry

Used During War To Detect Defects in Materials.

Little is known of the manner in which X-rays have been used during the war, says a scientific correspondent. They were used for inspection in testing hidden defects in materials used for important purposes such as the building of aeroplanes. At the moment industrial radiology is young, and care must be taken not to claim for it too much at such an early stage. Nevertheless, it has already shown that the possibilities outside the range of surgical applications are boundless, and for that reason the establishment of an Institute of Radiology in London is a project which deserves every possible support.

Another H-Itchin Record

Wisconsin Three-Year-Old Brings Up Duster Mark.

Wisconsin's Prime Second, a pure bred Holstein Friesian cow owned by John Erickson, a breeder living near Waupun, has completed a yearly record which gives her the world's championship in the senior three-year-old class, with a production of 12,273.4 pounds of butter from 23,562 3/4 pounds of milk. These figures exceed by a considerable margin the former record held by Lady Aggie Brio Hengerveld, a California cow.

Memorial Clock Tower at Montreal

A memorial clock tower dedicated to the memory of the heroic service performed by the British navy and maritime marine in the great war has been erected on the waterfront at Montreal on a commanding site. One of the most important features of the tower is the fact that it will be a signal station, the time being relayed from Montreal observatory.

Disastrous Year For Chinese Tea Trade

Russian Market Still Closed and Prices Are Low.

"The year has been a disastrous one for the tea trade," states the Republic of China Government Bureau of Economic Information. "The Russian market, having given no orders, the bulk of the crop was sent to Shanghai, and only about 1,000 half-chests were disposed of in Hankow. The outlook for the China tea trade is dispiriting. Large stocks have accumulated in Shanghai, and prices are so low that China tea cannot compete with Indian, Ceylon or Java tea under present conditions. The Russian market is still closed. Traders have such large stocks of the 1929 crop on hand that it is doubtful if any new tea will be purchased for 1931."

Thelans Have No Measures

Very Hard to Get Accurate Information About Distances.

Colonel Howard Judd, leader of the Mount Everest expedition, writes: "After my arrival at Blomah we went down the Rongshah Valley. Many hermits in the valley were living in caves in the rocks, supported and fed by the nearest villages. The blue smoke of jasper incense, burnt every morning outside the houses, was everywhere. It was very hard to get accurate information from Thelans as to distances. They have no measures, and so two Thelans will tell you the same story. For short distances we have been met with the astonishing reply that a place was distant two or three cups of tea, meaning the length of time it takes to drink two or three cups of tea."

The Sounding Spool

The late George Zeno Tucker, the movie "tucker," was noted for his fastidious tastes. Mr. Tucker was hunched over a restaurant, and at a nearby table sat a movie king whose table manners were much to be desired. The man ate his soup in a specially noisy manner.

Bathing away, he leaned towards Mr. Tucker and said: "This is dead good soup, George." "It sounds good," Mr. Tucker replied.

The Need Of Canada At The Present Time Is Increased Population

Stabilizing Device

For Aircraft Made

Invention Prevents Airplanes Being Damaged From Proper Course.

Successful trials of flights between Paris and Amsterdam of a new stabilizing device for airplanes, indicating that another remarkable advance has been made in the direction of securing greater safety for aerial transport. The new stabilizer, which is the invention of Georges Avellin, himself a practical aviator, consists of two tubular appliances, of which one is used to control the wings and the other the rudder. It is claimed for the new invention that if the airplane enters a fog or thick clouds and for any reason diverted from its right course, the stabilizer at once comes into play and automatically brings back the machine to its proper line of flight.

For use during night flying there is an arrangement of lines of its electric lights, the change in levels of which at once indicates to the pilot the direction in which he is flying, whether he is on an even keel or otherwise. The whole apparatus is so simple that it may be installed and easy to install, while it in no way hampers the pilot. It weighs but three-quarters of a hundred weight.

Plans Advanced For Channel Tunnel

Tube Connecting England and France Will Be 30 Miles Long.

Tentative plans for the channel tunnel between Britain and France have been advanced. The total length, including the approaches in England and France, will be 30 miles, of which more than twenty miles and a half will be under the sea. The present plans call for the building of two tunnels, each eighteen feet in diameter, connected by cross galleries at intervals of 200 yards. The tunnel will be worked by electricity. Iron tubes will be built up as the tunnel advances, precisely as in the recent plans. It is estimated that the tunnel could be completed in five and a half years. The cost before the war was estimated at $30,000,000, which amount now probably would have to be considerably increased to $100,000,000, or even $125,000,000. The working expenses before the war were calculated at $2,500,000 a year and the income at $7,500,000, but both estimates probably would now be exceeded.

Expedition Circles

World's Highest Peak

Royal Geographical Society Asks Men to Scale Last Lap.

Sir Francis Younghusband, president of the Royal Geographical Society, announced to the society that the expedition sent to attempt to reach the summit of Mount Everest in the Himalayas, the highest peak in the world, had accomplished the task set for it in 1921.

After exploring the mountain from many directions, G. H. Bullock and Mr. Mallory had reached the northeastern spur, 6,000 feet below the summit, from which a way to the summit seemed reasonably possible.

"We now have to find men," Sir Francis said, "who can stand the terrible heights and the frightful cold they will encounter on those crucial two miles of the knowledge ledge."

Sir Francis added that the society must organize the expedition and find a new leader to take the place of Colonel Younghusband, who was unable to devote more time to it. Six men, he said, would be needed for the climbing party.

No Foolish Here

Other than prohibitionists, industry has no stronger ally than the movement advanced for early closing of public houses in London, England. In the statement made in 1931 of their recently visited on one evening there were found 62 unattended public houses with bottles and, in addition, 141 children under ten years standing outside. That is a phase of social life, however, that was never permitted to reach a foothold in Canada.—Hamilton Spectator.

Canadian Railroads Safe For Travel

There is little chance of being killed or injured travelling on a Canadian railroad. According to figures just published there was only one passenger killed in 1919 to every 1,652,000 carried, and one injured to every 125,772 carried. Throughout the entire year there were only 25 persons killed and 372 injured. There were 162 employees killed and 1,304 injured.

For the five years 1909 to 1914, Canada received about 1,367,000 immigrants from all sources, or, at an average of 272,000 a year. This rate had been maintained the intervening seven years would have brought the Dominion over 2,000,000 new citizens from outside. If for domestic reasons the pace had somewhat slackened, the increase in population during the five years would surely have exceeded 2,000,000.

But the war intervened and the tide of immigration ceased to flow. The influx of newcomers fell off to a mere dribble. Great Britain and the continent of Europe were practically drained as sources of population, and the stream of American settlers dwindled to a minimum. During the whole war period we received only about 550,000 from all sources, or 2,000,000 fewer than might have been expected had the world's peace been undisturbed. For this reason it is not too much to say that the outbreak of war and the progress thereof caused great numbers of new immigrants to emigrate to leave the country. Tens of thousands joined the colors of the allied armies. Other tens of thousands fled to the United States to escape service. And Canada's sixty thousand soldiers overseas, and the children that should have been with them, gathered the autumn of Germany in July and August, 1918, has robbed Canada of nearly 1,000,000 new citizens, children who otherwise would have been here today.

The price is what is wrong with Canada at the present moment. But for the war the Dominion would have had the people on the land and consequently fewer unemployed towns and cities. Under such conditions the nation would have been able to meet the needs of the war, and the overland charges imposed by two new transcontinental railways constructed before the war would have been a growing volume of freight and passenger business, which naturally would have reduced the heavy dependence on these roads and gone far to place the whole country on a sound financial basis.

One lesson in plain. More population is the cure for Canada's ailing and economic life. The heavy load that has been placed upon the nation must be recovered. Once the general election is over, the government of the day must devote special attention to the task of getting more people on the soil. From 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 people in the United States and the railways must be brought under the plow. There is ample room for tens of thousands of additional farmers in Old Ontario, New Ontario, British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces. Closer settlement of the land will grow volume of exports to a wider home market for the products of Canadian factories, the reduction of unemployment, the betterment of industrial conditions everywhere, rising public revenue, and a progressive raising of the per capita income of the Dominion.

The kind of settlers desired are available in adequate numbers in Great Britain, the United States, Norway, Sweden, and other approved countries. What is needed is a far-sighted, constructive immigration policy—a policy which while taking note of existing unemployment and safeguarding the interests of organized labor, will not remove unnecessary obstacles to an intensive land settlement movement, but actively promote such a movement in keeping with the needs of the nation. In the working out of such a programme invaluable co-operation may be expected from the railways, the Provincial Governments, the Western Canada Colonization Association and other immigration agencies. That is the road back to national prosperity and economic stability for all classes in the community.

Spider's Web Fish Nets

New Guinea Natives Find Mesh Very Strong.

Spiders' webs were used as fishing nets by the natives of a little village called Waley in New Guinea. The spider is about the size of a small beetle, but its dark and hairy brown legs spread to about two inches. The web it spins is about six feet in diameter, and its mesh is very strong. The natives set up long bamboo beets over into a loop at the end and in a very short time the spider weaves a web on these frames spider left for him, and the Pupuan has his net made while he waits. The mesh at the outside of the web is about one inch square, and gets smaller until near the centre it is only, perhaps, one-eighth of an inch.

About half our time is spent in doing things we ought to have done before.

Ordering Seed of the Best Vegetables (Experiments in Farming Note)

In order to obtain the best results from the garden, it is a well known fact that good seed of the best varieties is one of the important features which will insure certain success. In this regard many of the old standard varieties are still giving satisfactory results, but it is a good policy at this season of the year to study the records of past years, to ascertain if the crops obtained then agree favorably with the requirements of today.

Procrastination on the part of those intending to order seed may end in disappointment, because the bulk of seed orders received by seed houses are received late in the season. Those orders that are sent in early are liable to receive exactly what is asked for, whereas, orders sent in later may receive many substitutions.

The requirements, whether general or specific as the case may be, will have some influence on the choice to be made. However, it is a well-known fact, and most people are well agreed upon it, that earliness, yielding ability, uniformity and quality are the chief deciding factors when making a choice of varieties for a garden, whether for commercial or home use. It is here, that discrimination has to be applied, because there are many novelties being offered which may prove satisfactory and may be not. Where this is desired to introduce new early varieties, it is a good policy to refer to definite data dealing with this particular question, and in this way, find out from reports of experiments the performance of such sorts. For instance, in the case of early corn, there is Early Malcolm and Sweet Squaw, both of which are fully ten days earlier than our best early variety. Both of these are white, but possess such quality, earliness and yielding quality that they can be recommended to the public with certainty. The same performance holds in the case of tomatoes, of which there is the Alacritty. It has become quite well-known as a variety for earliness, quality and yielding ability. If such varieties are added to the garden tests, or other varieties that have become known, there is little doubt, but that the results will be very satisfactory.

Buy only good seed, sow plenty of it to insure having plenty of plants, from which the most vigorous ones can be selected.

FISHIN'

Supposin' fish don't bite at first, What are you goin' to do? Throw down your pole, chuck out your bait,

And say your fishin's through? You bet you ain't; you're goin' to fish,

An' fish, and fish, an' wait Until you've ketches a bucketful Or used up all your bait.

Suppose success don't come at first, What are you going to do? Throw up the sponge an' kick yourself

An' growl, an' fret and stew? You bet you ain't; you're goin' to fish, And bait and bait ag'in, Until success will bite your hook, For grit is sure to win.

Speaks to 'Men's Own'

Capt. F. W. Richardson, of the Salvation Army, was the speaker at the 'Men's Own' on Sunday afternoon, last. The Captain gave a very interesting talk on the work of the 'Army' dealing especially with the rescue part. He had a very attentive audience who went away from the meeting appreciative of the great work which is being carried on throughout the world by the Salvation Army. Rev. V. M. Gilbert and Miss Irene Hour, accompanied the singing and also gave duets on the mandolin.

Secrets Concerning

row should follow the plow in case a sub-surface packer cannot be obtained.

Cultivate the land as fast as the weeds appear, the smaller they are, the surer and easier it is to kill them, and if they are not allowed to get over one inch high they can steal little or no moisture.

Furrow the land north and south at the last cultivation in the fall before it freezes up, or run a lister the same direction every four feet, to hold the snow and keep the soil from blowing.

The very first operation in the spring following, just before the land gets scarcely dry on the surface, the ridges must be leveled with a drag harrow consisting of the field.

During the last three years it is the earliest drilled wheat that made the big yields.

Drill three pecks of clean, graded, tested and treated wheat to each acre, about two or even more inches deep, before July 1, if possible.

Do this while sluggards die in their crops, and you will have wheat to sell and to keep.

It is the following of similar methods of wheat farming as outlined above that shows up at harvest time. The disc method and sub-plowing method netted the fence yield from nothing to four or five bushels to the acre, while from 20 to 30 bushels per acre have been grown by good farming during each year of the last three seasons.

Many farmers have made statements in the papers, recently, that a set of rules can be followed for success, but this is not so. Dry land farmers will have to follow the rules of the game to win out in the end as is conclusively shown by the successes of various farmers all over the northwest, and the failure of the ones who have not practiced any one method.
